Community Food Initiative survey

The NSW Environmental Trust is currently undertaking an analysis of existing and emerging community food initiatives to identify areas of most need to help make the NSW community food movement more coordinated, effective, inclusive and self-sustaining. This survey forms a core part of this research project.

If you feel inclined to add your bit and put our region on their radar, please take five minutes out of your day to complete this survey.

University of Canberra social impact study

Thanks to those of you who have given your time to be interviewed for this study. Emma and Bethany, who are conducting the research, are very enthusiastic about the information they've gathered. We'll be very interested to see the end result.

That's it for now. Hope to see as many of you as possible at the meeting after today's market.
